ABOUT US

More than just producing good products and artworks, we believe that building a good company culture is as important as nurturing client relationships. Supporting our staffs that are working behind the scenes is always in the forefront of our agenda. As a crucial, operational building blocks to our business, our culture promotes a supportive environment amongst our directors and staffs, as well as attracting like-minded clients to come and work together with us.

Consisting of 12 staffs and a number of operational and installment teams, PDM has effectively handled numerous high-level projects, despite the rather simple number of employees. We believe that quantity is never the main concern, rather quality on how we develop our human resources' capacity and capability.

Led by Erwinn Firmansyah, a passionate individual who has eyes for design and an interest of developing products from recycled items, Erwinn started out as an Interior Designer after graduating from Institut Teknologi Bandung in 1984. He handled over 20 interior design projects for banks, corporate clients to hotels and city attractions.

With 30 years of experience of being an Interior Designer under his belt, Erwinn is now a guiding light for PDM to achieve its successes and compiling exceptional portfolios from prominent clients, as well as educating and empowering local artisans to nurture their skills and abilities.

Finishing

Add more value through a distinctive quality of finishing.
Your brand will stand out from the crowd and speak for itself.

Screen printing

Screen printing (a.k.a Sablon) is a printing technique that uses a woven mesh to support an ink-blocking stencil. The attached stencil forms open areas of mesh that transfer ink or other printable materials which can be pressed through the mesh as a sharp-edged image onto a substrate. A fill blade or squeegee is moved across the screen stencil, forcing or pumping ink into the mesh openings for transfer by capillary action during the stroke.

Foil/ Hot Foil

A technique where metallic foil is applied to a page using heat and pressure to create a reflective area. The effect is usually more eye catching than a metallic ink as the foil has a greater reflective properties and sits on top of the paper rather than being partially absorbed as is the case with the ink.

Letter press

Letterpress is relief printing. It involves locking movable type into the bed of a press, inking it, and rolling or pressing paper against it to form an impression.

Die cut

A metal tool which punches is hole or edge into a piece of artwork ito create a irregular shape in the substrate, usually card or paper. Like a pie cutter in application, A die cutter is often used used to create packaging from a regular sheet, but can also be used in brochure design to create an unusual cover or to knockout a hole for a image to show through.

Emboss/ deboss

The technique of raising up a portion of the page to create a shadow. This, like foil blocking, requires a special dye to be made and subsequently can add significantly to the overall cost of a job.

Embroidery

Embroidery are commonly used on fabric, but craft of sewing designs attach to paper or thin card it's an excellent way of making greetings cards, bookmarks and the other printing that can make the unique effect.

Flocking

Flocking is the process of depositing many small fiber particles (called flock) onto a surface. It can also refer to the texture produced by the process, or to any material used primarily for its flocked surface. Flocking of an article can be performed for the purpose of increasing its value in terms of the tactile sensation, aesthetics, color and appearance.

Wax Seal

Sealing wax is a wax material of a seal which, after melting, hardens quickly (to paper, parchment, ribbons and wire, and other material) forming a bond that is difficult to separate without noticeable tampering. Wax is used to verify something such as a document is unopened, to verify the sender's identity, for example with a signet ring, and as decoration.

Laser Cut

Lasers are particularly well suited for realizing even the finest geometries with maximum precision and quality. A cutting plotter cannot fulfill these requirements. Laser cutting is a quick and easy process that can be used for processing paper, paperboard and cardboard. Even engraving of paper with the laser delivers impressive results. Whether logos, photographs or ornaments.

Edge Paint

Edge paint is an ideal way to add a pop of color to the side of any of our premium business card. This finishing is applied by rolling ink onto the outer edges of the cardstock. Edge paint is also the perfect way to cover up the white edges of your card if you are printing a full bleed color onto a white stock by allowing you to have the flexibility of color matched printing your card while not having white edges.

Engrave

Engraving is the practice of incising a design onto a hard, usually flat surface by cutting grooves into it. The result may be a decorated object in itself, as when silver, gold, steel, or glass are engraved, or may provide an intaglio printing plate, of copper or another metal.

Thermo

Thermography or thermographic printing is a printing process that causes text or graphics to be slightly raised from the substrate. The resulting visual effect is interesting, making this a technique that is commonly used on wedding invitations, letterheads, business cards, greetings cards, gift wrap, diplomas and packaging. Since it is also a tactile effect thermography can be used to print braille text.

Book Binding

Bookbinding is the process of physically assembling a book from a number of folded or unfolded sheets of paper or other material. It usually involves attaching a book cover to the resulting text-block. We also can provide special binding such as Japanese binding.
